

Tea Party Patriots Serve Karl Rove with Letter: “Bow Out Gracefully, Now”

The American people will not bow to Karl Rove and let him choose our candidates for us

Dallas, TX – Today, Tea Party Patriots, the nation’s largest tea party organization, served Karl Rove and his new PAC “Conservative Victory Fund” with the following letter:

Dear Mr. Rove,

With the announcement of your new PAC called “Conservative Victory Project,” it is clear that you and the usual DC-inside the beltway consultants have decided that you will forcibly take over the candidate selection process in Republican primaries across the country. You have declared that you and your well-connected friends will determine who the “best candidate” is without considering the views, wishes, or opinions of the local activists.

Bearing in mind that the Republican Party claims to be the party of smaller, limited government, and one that trusts individuals to make their own decisions, it is not only hypocritical of you to insert yourself into the primary process, it is antithetical to the party’s espoused philosophy.

The fact is that the permanent political and consultant class of which you are a part has an awful record when it comes to actually winning elections, and none of you apparently could be bothered to spend time or money building a social media presence or ground game to counter the Democrats’ excellent programs. The last thing Republican primary voters want or need is an out-of-touch, cocktail-party-attending, command-and-control, old-fashioned consultant ramming his candidate choices down their throats.

So here is some advice. Bow out gracefully, now, before you make a bigger fool of yourself. We are the conservative grassroots army. We are engaged. We are passionate. We will never give up. We are in it for the heart and soul of this country, which beats out motives like yours every time – those being a contract with FOX News, personal wealth, and power.

Move over Karl Rove. There’s a new game in town, and it really isn’t a game at all. It’s a fight to save our country, and it starts by defeating you.

Tea Party Patriots is a national grassroots coalition with more than 3,400 locally organized chapters and more than 15 million supporters nationwide.
